

Ever wonder how 3M Safety and Security Laminates work?

3M Safety and Security Solutions have effectively been used for a wide variety of commercial applications to protect people and property from security and safety issues related to glass. 3M Safety and Security Laminates are designed to make glass shatter-resistant by holding the glass pieces together when broken. These laminates are usually thicker than sun control films and incorporate a more aggressive adhesive. Depending on the application, the laminate may be called upon to deter forced entry, mitigate the effects of blasts and catastrophic weather.
